Buffalo Pumpkin Farm and Market

Hello Farm Friends! The Pumpkin Farm is Open for our 25th Season and we can't wait to see you!

Mums, Mums and more Mums...

- Fancy Pumpkins, Giant Pumpkins, Warty Pumpkins, Pretty Pumpkins, Mini Pumpkins - Corn Stalks and Straw

Bales for Decorating - Your favorite family fun activities and farm animals plus a few new characters – Family fun is the goal at the Buffalo Pumpkin Farm.

In 1999 farm owner Bob Kautz decided to try a new hobby - he opened his family's heritage farm to the public to sell pumpkins and provide fun farm activities - and over the past 24 years the "hobby" has become a fall tradition for hundreds of local families.

Activities for kids and adults have evolved over the years. One year he actually let people roll down the hill in a tractor tire, another year he tried a pumpkin catapult. The most recent addition this year is the "Playful Sprouts Play Area" with a giant mound of wood chips for climbing, slides, tractor tires and other fun objects for littles to explore.

The biggest change Bob has noticed over the years is how fewer and fewer families have access to their own family farm experiences, making the Pumpkin Farm even more important for kids to get to experience interacting with farm animals and the outdoors in special ways. Many families now have multiple generations building memories and traditions at the farm, which is also available for small parties and gatherings. Being open 7 days a week also allows the farm to be a destination for many school field trips.

We can even host your birthday party / church outing / office gathering in one of our party venues!

Looking forward to another year of memories and farm fun!

BUFFALO TRIVIA QUESTION OF THE MONTH:

Who was the first citizen of Buffalo to live past the century mark?

ANSWER TO LAST MONTH'S QUESTION:

The first criminal trial in the county took place in Buffalo early in 1836. When the defendant, arrested for stealing a small amount of money from the store, was taken before S.E. Hastings, Justice of the Peace, the judge recognized him as the man who had stolen $4 from him. Hastings demanded his money back and pronounced a sentence of 20 lashes on the bare back. The whipping was carried out in the moonlit woods, and the thief was shoved onto the river in an old boat without oars.

Buffalo History 101

All went smoothly with the village of Buffalo and its inhabitants until the county lines were formed, which placed Buffalo so close to the Muscatine County boundary line that its prospects for the county seat were ruined. Davenport eventually secured the county seat in 1838, after some political wrangling in determining the county lines. Davenport's victory was disputed, and the county seat was a topic of controversy for years. To avoid further controversy, Davenport built the first county courthouse to ensure the issue was settled.

News from ECHO BLUFF RANCH

Buffalo, Iowa

The barn is coming along, and we hope to have it buttoned back up by the time the cold weather gets here. For those of you with pets, even though the temperatures are beginning to fall, do not be fooled that flea and tick season is behind us. Fall flea and tick prevention is more important than any other season.

The number of fleas on animals in the fall has a tendency to double when compared to the spring. The theory behind this "flea surge" occurring in the autumn is because the temperatures stay around 70 degrees. Fleas thrive in these conditions. Fleas can transmit parasites, tapeworms, and bacterial diseases. Your pet may unknowingly be extremely allergic to bites, and will experience extreme inflammation and itching, and excessive scratching. If left untreated, this can lead to secondary infections.

You may be wondering how your pet gets fleas, especially if it is an "indoor" pet. Quite simply, all it takes is for your pet to walk through the grass or brush up against a shrub or bush. It is difficult to control fleas outside due to the unpredictability of wild animals visiting your property.

Preventative flea medicine is a must for your pets not only due to the various illness and diseases but because of allergies. Ticks can transmit Lyme disease, babesiosis, anaplasmosis, ehrlichiosis, and Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever.

Fleas can transmit parasites, tapeworms, and bacterial diseases. Your pet may unknowingly be extremely allergic to bites, and will experience extreme inflammation and itching, and excessive scratching. If left untreated, this can lead to secondary infections.

Symptoms and signs of fleas and ticks

Itchy, red, moist or scabbed skin, Increased scratching

Itchy, runny eyes, Itchy back or base of tail (most commonly flea allergy), Itchy ears and ear infections, Sneezing, Vomiting, Diarrhea, Snoring caused by an inflamed throat, Paw chewing/swollen paws, Constant licking
Be sure to look for specific signs of fleas including seeing actual fleas or flea "dirt."

Preventing fleas and ticks goes beyond applying your pet's topical medicine.

Within your house, try frequent vacuuming and laundering of pet bedding.

Outside, keep your grass mowed short and shrubs trimmed back. These critters love moisture, so also be sure to keep leaves raked and cleaned up. If necessary, you may need to treat your yard with pesticide. Also, make it a habit of performing a regular, daily flea and tick check on your pet.

Before treating your pet for flea/ticks, make sure it is an infestation, not just a skin allergy. When applying a flea and tick preventative product, make sure to only use products for the species they are intended, and avoid store brand products. Some medications are highly toxic to both dogs and cats. If you have any questions about infestations/allergies or what types of products are best for treating your pet, contact your veterinarian. AND AS ALWAYS, BE RESPONSIBLE! SPAY AND NEUTER!

Buckaroo News

The weekend of the 19th, we will be participating in the reenactment of the Battle of Cedar Creek. The battle takes place in the Shenandoa Valley of Northern Virginia.

During the morning, Lieutenant General Jubal Early appeared to have a victory for his Confederate army, as he captured over 1,000 prisoners and over 20 artillery pieces while forcing seven enemy infantry divisions to fall back. The Union army, led by Major General Philip Sheridan, rallied in late afternoon and drove away Early's men. In addition to recapturing all of their own artillery seized in the morning, Sheridan's forces captured most of Early's artillery and wagons. The battle ruined the Confederate army in the Shenandoah Valley, and it was never again able to maneuver down the valley to threaten the Union capital city of Washington, D.C. or northern states. Additionally, the Shenandoah Valley had been a key producer of supplies for the Confederate army, and Early could no longer protect it. The Union victory aided the reelection of Abraham Lincoln, and along with earlier victories at Winchester and Fisher's Hill, won Sheridan lasting fame. Rowdy has really turned into a faithful war horse.

CITY OF BUFFALO ORDINANCE NO. 569

An Ordinance amending section 3-1.0101 of the Municipal Code of the City of Buffalo relating to nuisance definitions

WHEREAS, from time to time it is necessary to amend the Buffalo Municipal Code to reflect changes in rules concerning nuisance definitions.

3-1.0101 Definitions.

For use in this chapter, the following terms are defined:

1. "NUISANCE" shall mean whatever poses an unreasonable threat to health or safety; interferes with the comfortable enjoyment of life or property in an unreasonable manner; or causes annoyance or distress to a reasonable person of normal sensitivities. In addition to the above definition and to nuisances as designated by other provisions of the Buffalo City Code and state law, the following are declared to be nuisances:

R. The storage, placing, keeping, or leaving of building materials, appliances, furniture, machinery, equipment, scrap metal, or other similar personal property or fixtures outside of a dwelling or accessory building on residential lots so as to impair the residential character and/or property value of the surrounding lots or neighborhood. This definition shall not apply to boats, camping trailers, or similar recreational vehicles which are not otherwise junk vehicles under Chapter 3; nor shall it apply to building materials, machinery, and equipment on a residential lot when, and only when, an active and valid building permit has been issued for that residential lot.

Community Development, Planning & Zoning, Variance Board and Storm Water Board are looking for residents to be on their boards. Anyone interested, please either come to a meeting to see what is entailed or call Mayor Rodriguez at 563-210-3462.

We would really like more resident involvement!

There is a burn ban at this time. To check for updates, please go to <https://getrave.com/m/254BqYVo68uYd>

We really need to have everyone keep up on their bills. If you need a little help, please contact Community Action.
